RIDDIMS & STEMS

Music houses in Jamaica create “Riddims” or instrumentals and then have their artists and/or hire artists to record or “voice” them. Over the years, you’ve heard traces of those old riddims in newer recordings.

Over the years I’ve tracked out (made individual tracks of music for easy mixing) my beats for people interested in working with me...

Recently I’ve had this idea...

I have a stash of old joints with stems from 2011. And I’ve decided to hand them over to the Creative Commons world. SO instead of searching for talent to turn these beats in to songs... here’s everything you’ll need to create your next experience.

Use all or some — it’s up to you.

Just do me a solid — Credit me and the riddim you used, at least, so I can find it. Hopefully just like those Reggae riddims, these will be used and improved on for generations...

Hey TSP... Riddims & Stems is such a terrific idea!
Thanks for once again innovating with a new format.
I don't doubt other bloc fam will continue the legacy.
